THE PENNANT NOT IN SIGHT, BUT THEY ARE WORKING HARD.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR A HIGHER PLACE IN THE LIST-BRIDEGROOMS WILL HAVE TO FIGHT

TO KEEP IN THE FIRST DIVISION. The Giants are now forming ahead in grand style, an New-Yorkers are rushing to their support as people in this neighborhood always do when their favorite baseball team is enjoying a winning streak. The only reglet their admirers feel is that the team did not do better work carlier in the season, so that there would be a fighting chance for the pennant. Even now they have a chance to finish ahead of Cleveland, Pittshung and Philadelphia. A continuation of the work done during the last month would accomplish this result. The New-Yorkers have not lost a game at home grounds in several weeks, but it is too much to expect them to keep up such a record. The chances are that the beam will do much better work or its next Western trip than it did on the first tour. The nine has been materially strengthened, but a better sign than anything else is the improved team work shown by the men. While the improvement in this respect may not be emphatic, that the Glants should do any team work at all is at least encouraging.

Over in Brooklyn the conditions are not nearly so flattering, and the Bridegrooms will be fortunate if they finish in the first division. The infusion of new blood into the team may help matters somewhat. Still the team is not what it was earlier in the season, and it seems doubtful if the old fire and decision can be infused into the team again this year. That Richardson squabble was an unfortunate thing for the Prooklyn Club all

The New-York and Boston teams did the best work last week, each winning four out of the five games p'ayed. Pittsburg comes next with three victories out of the four Brooklyn won two out of five, while the Philadelphia team won only one game out of six played. The slump of the Quakers has been appailing. ARMENIANS APPEAL FOR AID.

The Armenians of this city have made another its inhabitants who are now being persecuted under Turkish tyranny. On saturday night they assembled Union to pritest against the Mahometan in justice in the execution of innocent men. were many enthusiastic speeches made in Armenian and English. Alexander V. Campbell was among those who spoke. Nishan Garabellan, who is the delegate sent to America from the Armenian Revolutionary "Hunchag" Association, said:

"Armenia is now in the threes of Moslem tyranny and persecution. The property, honor and life of her Christian Inhabitants are entirely at the mercy of a horde of Kurdish and Circassian thieves and murderers. With the cennivance of the Turkish authorities they do just as they please. Women are violated and murdered, men are tortured and executed, villages are devastated, crops destroyed, live stock stolen and homesteads ruined. Armenians scattered over Europe and America, unable to witness with indifference this carnival of Moslem fanticism, are helding indition meetings throughout the civilized world an. ganizing revolutionary committees everywhere, with the determined purpose of saving their dear country from the bateful yoke."
Resolutions were adopted at the meeting con-demning in the bitterest terms the persecutions in Armenin, and calling upon all civilized powers to aid in the emancipation of that country.

A SAUCY AND LINGUISTIC STOWAWAY.

Samuel Tache, a bright little Russian lad, stowed imself away in the hold of the French steamer La Touraine, the day before she left Havre on her last voyage across the Atlantic. The following day, August 8, he came up on deck and, walking up to Captain Franguel, said in a "chipper" way: "Hello, take a trip with you. I had no money, but I thought you wouldn't mind a little thing like that." The lad was taken into the cabin, and the purser collected $30 among the passengers for him. Yesterday young Tache was taken to Ellis Island, where a fine of $10 was imposed. After all technicalities had been observed, the youngster was shipped to Providence, where he has a brother

The stowaway has had an interesting career. He was born in Russia, but, at the age of two years, travelled to Jerusalem, and when able to "go it alone," wandered about until he reached Paris. He speaks German, French, Arabic and Spanish.

A METHODIST PROHIBITION RALLY.

A largely attended Prohibition rally took place last wight at the old Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, between Eight and Ninth aves. Every one was warmly welcome at the door by special committee. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. John A. B. Wilson, has planned a series of monthly Prohibition rallies, which have already become popular, and which, at each meeting, fill the church the doors. Last night the services consisted of three short talks or sermons on the evils of intemperance. The speakers were Dr. Wilson, Dr. Caroline H. Dennis and Axel Gustafsen.
The church, which was founded in 1835, has a large membership of West Side Methodists.

FUNERAL OF REUBEN LANGDON.

The funeral of Reuben Langdon, the drygood ommission merchant, was held in the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church on Saturiay. Dr. John R. Davies, the pastor, conducted the services. assisted by the Rev. A. W. Halsey, of the Spring Street Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. John B. Devins, of Hope Chapel. Three hymns were sung by the choir of Hope Chapel, where Mr. Langdon had worked for a quarter of a century. Mr. Halsey spoke of Mr. Langdon as a man free from everything he did. Mr. Devins dwell upon the elements of his consecrated life, exhibiting in a marked manner the fruits of the Spirit-love, Joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, temperance and faith. Dr. Davies referred to the inthe Church and in the community. Many members of the church and of the chapel were present. Among the officers was George E. Sterry, who had long been associated with him in religious work. Two brothers, the Rev. George Langdon, of Boston, and Charles Langdon, of Elizabeth, were also present. The burial was in Greenwood. Last evening there was a service in memory of Mr. Langdon in Hope Chapel.

CHARITIES OF THE LANA AC TELA SOCIETY. The Lana ac Tela Society, which is interested in he Fresh Air work for children, has been doing much good in its out-of-door charities. In the last report of the society the efforts made to obtain money are spoken of. One of these means was a Colonial tea, given by Mrs. Edward C. Homans, at her home. No. 12 East Fifty-fifth-st. The affair was a great success, and $535 was realized. The success of Mrs. Homans's tea encouraged the society to open their home. The house which they rented in Nyack-on-the-Hudson was small, but it sheltered a happy lot of children and several mothers. Mothers are charged $3 per week at the home, but children under twelve years are received free.

The society is in need of money to continue work this season. Provisions are also carnestly requested. Beef and other meats, cereals, vegetables and dairy produce are especially desired. Mrs. J. E. L. Davis, of No. 4 East Sixty-third-st., is the president.

MOUNT VERNON. Dr. Archibald T. Banning, the recently appointed health officer, has secured from the State Board of Health a correction of the records which heretofore had done palpable injustice to this city, and justly made the people feel indignant. The mortality record has been filed each month with the State Board of Health, and it continued to calculate the death rate in comparison with the other parts of the State on the basis of a population of 10,000, when, in fact, the population has been above 15,000 for over a year. In addition to this, the record included the deaths at the New-York Infant Asylum. an institution within the boundaries of this city. Banning has secured an Improvement in the practice of the State Board, and hereafter the death rate will be computed on a basis of 15,000 population, and the death rate at the Infant Asylum will be separated from that of the city proper. . . . Dr. Stuart B. Carlisle has resigned as surgeon of the 11th Separate Company, National Guard, and Dr. A. T. Banning has been elected to succeed him.

Father Hernessey read a letter from Archbishop Satolli, authorizing him to administer the Papal benediction at each mass.

NEWARK

Mrs. C. Kelly, of No. 383 Warren-st. has requested the police to try and trace the moveof her father, James Moran, from the time he left her home on Friday, August II, to the time he was picked up in New-York either drunk or unconscious the following night. On Sunday, August 13, Moran died in Chambers Street Hos-pital, and his daughter is confident that he was a victim of foul play. He did a money brokerage business, and always carried considerable money with him. When he was picked up he had not a cent in his pockets, though his daughter is sure he had considerable money with him when he left her house. Mrs. Kelly says that her father was a steady man, and not addicted to drink. She also says he had suffered from heart disease for two years. As there were several bruises or his head when he was picked up, she believes he was foully dealt with. She first learned of his death through a notice in a paper, and when she went to New-York to identify the body, which had been removed to the Morgue, strommuni-cated her suspicions to the police, but they did not seem disposed to investigate the matter.

KINGSLAND,

Mrs. John Flanagan died suddenly last Tuesday having taken a large quantity of carbolic acid. Several peculiar circumstances in connection with Reher death seemed to demand investigation, and the inquest was adjourned until next Friday. A Tribune reporter yesterday learned that among the evi-dence to be produced is the fact that Mrs. Flana-gan and Mrs. Woods, a friend, had been drinking together on the day Mrs. Flamagan died; that no bottle or glass containing poison could be found on Tuesday, but that on Wednesday a glass smelling strongly of carbolic acid was found hidden in closet. This glass, Flanagan said, his wife and he used to drink beer from. A bottle, perfectly empty on Tuesday, was found in the house rartly filled with carbolic acid on Wednesday.

HACKENSACK

A succession of shricks startled Sheriff Bogert's sack jail at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. It was thought that the prison had been struck by light-ning, but investigation showed that the cries came from the cell occupied by Frank Kennan, Coleman, who is under arrest for highway robbery and burglary. Kennan has been in jail more than two months, and during that time has not spoken a word to Sheriff Bogert or his deputy. A few days ago he began to destroy the pans and cups in which food was served, and last week he tore in which food was served, and has week he tore

There is a large herd of these deer, who have the two northern pens assigned to the cervidae. Among the herd are two bucks, each with seven points on his antiers, and yesterday they came to the conclusion that it was time to find out who was to be lord of the harem. It was just about noon when they faced each other in the open, while the younger bucks and does peered out of the doors of the shed, or found a vantage ground under the trees.

It was a grand battle. The bucks stood op-posite each other, pawing the ground, and then, lowering their heads, they charged furiously. There was a crash of horns, and the moss that had covered them was stripped off and hung down over compaised, and it is thought the provision of the city charter should apply to other city officers as well as to aldermen. . . > CHICAGO UNIVERSITY PRESSED FOR CASH. Chicago, Aug. 20.-Chicago University is severely affected by the existing financial depression. The institution is practically out of funds and the prospect for replenishing the exchequer is not encouraging. While there are no debts pressing heavily on the university, the trustees find it impossible to carry out at present plans for the development of the great school as projected, and an unpleasant postponement of certain proposed improvements is unavoidable. So close pressed has been the university for ready cash that the salaries of the professors for this month were not paid until several days after the usual time, and it is said that some of the instructors have not yet received their July stipend. It is probable that John D. Rockefeller, who has already been so munificently gen-erous to the university, will be appealed to and will be requested to give for present use the $150. on which he subscribed shortly after Mr. Ryerson made his conditional gift of $100,000. While there is no question that the university will open its doors for its second scholastic year at the appointed time, and with a largely increased attendance of students, it is certain that the grounds, building and equipment of the school will be far less complete than the faculty and trustees desired and expected.
